Presentation Outlines

These are two presentation outlines for those presenting the Christian DISC® to various audiences. Whether you are a speaker at a conference, a pastor preaching to your congregation, or a coach presenting at a retreat, these outlines are meant to be a spark for your own content, creativity, and approach.

Outline 1: Discovering Your God-Given Strengths

II. Background of the Assessment

- Understanding the Christian DISC® Assessment
- Explain what the Christian DISC® Assessment is and how it works.
- Highlight the four main personality types (Dominant, Influencing, Steady, and Compliant) and their characteristics.
- Emphasize that no personality type is better than the others and that each type has unique strengths and weaknesses.

III. Discovering Your Personality Type

- Mention that listeners might have already identified themselves (or their spouse) from your description of the four types.

- Encourage listeners to take the Christian DISC® Assessment and discover their personality type.
- Share personal stories or examples of how knowing your personality type can help you in your personal and professional life.
- Emphasize that no assessment is meant to put people in a box or limit their potential, but rather to help them understand their God-given gifts and how to use them effectively. This also doesn't put God in a box.

IV. Using Your Gifts for God's Glory

- Discuss the importance of using our gifts for God's glory and the benefit of others.
- Share examples of how different personality types can contribute to the body of Christ in unique ways.
- Encourage listeners to reflect on how they can use their gifts and talents to serve God and others.

V. Conclusion:

- Remind listeners that we are all fearfully and wonderfully made by God, with unique talents and abilities.
- Encourage them to embrace their personality type and use their gifts for God's glory and the benefit of others.
